Welcome to our April 2019 newsletter!

I hope this newsletter finds you refreshed from a well-earned Easter break! We've been working on a number of exciting developments here at Hepp HQ alongside our activity delivery across the Sheffield City Region. I'm delighted to be able to share with you the news that our primary-age resources are now live on our online resource repository at www.hepp.ac.uk as well as a number of post-16 resources for those of you with a Sixth Form. Looking even more widely, two of our Board members have shared their valuable experiences and insights about how Hepp's offer fits into the bigger picture in the Sheffield City region and the future job market. We hope you have a fruitful final term!

Latest News

Hepp In Primary Schools

We have been successfully delivering our UniHERoes programme across 11 primary schools in the Sheffield City Region for four years and all 3 of those sessions (2 delivered in Y5 and 1 in Y6) are now available on our website.

We know this is a time of year where you work more closely than ever with your feeder primary schools and we would love for you to share this news with them. Research is clear that the earlier we start the conversation about higher education with young people, the more effective the impact. The resources are also great for transition activities as Y6 prepare for their big move.

Hepp Online For Students...

While the Hepp website is primarily aimed at advisers and teachers, we have a new resources section for Students/Parents, to enable you to direct your pupils and their families to our extremely popular information booklets on key topics. We really hope these resources enrich your conversations with young people about their future aspirations, helping them to better understand higher education and the choices they can make about it.
...including Post-16 Students!

Despite not currently delivering face-to-face engagements to post-16 students, there are many resources on our website that you can use with Y12 and Y13. These include Which? University lesson plans, presentations and workshops; numerous short films about higher education, finance and choices; and many other guides and activities. Search “Resources – Year Group – Y12/13” to check out everything that's available.

Our Brilliant Board

Hepp are very fortunate to have a Board made up of experienced representatives from key sectors, including employers, schools and the Local Enterprise Partnership. Two of them have recently been interviewed, providing different insights into the benefits of Hepp’s offer.

Chris Eccles, Associate Principal of Maltby Academy, has some great tips for utilising Hepp when working towards Gatsby Benchmark 7 and Louisa Harrison-Walker, Managing Director of Benchmark Recruit and Chair of Council, Sheffield Chamber of Commerce, has some wonderful insight into the labour market across the Sheffield City region and the skills our young people will need for their future employment.
